REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

FOR THE YEAR 1903-4.

To the School Board of Fitzwilliam:

I have the honor to submit my report as supervisor of schools.

SCHOOLHOUSES.

The condition of the school buildings is very much more satisfactory than a year ago. The village school-house has been painted. The cellar at the Columbian school has been cemented and the roof shingled. The newly painted and papered schoolroom at No. 1 presents a pleasing contrast to last year's dingy room. A new out-building has been provided at No. 1. The closet at No. 10 formerly opened directly from the hall and was too near the schoolroom. This has been remedied by building an out-house.

No. 9 requires shingling.

The sawdust banking at No. 10 has made the house more comfortable, but the wind still blows through the cracks in the walls. At small expense the children could be saved from this exposure. The chimney at this school ought to be repaired.

More blackboard is needed at No. 10, and that at No. 9 is altogether insufficient.

The flag pole at the Columbian school should be taken down, painted and a rope put on it.

No. 9 has no flag.

A long, low table for the little children is needed at the Columbian primary and at No. 1.

School windows without curtains menace the eye-sight of teacher and children. This is especially true when the snow is on the ground. A number of curtains are needed.

Various things in the way of small repairing ought to be done. As with stitches so with nails, one in time saves nine. The difficulty is to get these little things done. A man does not want to bother with such a small "job." If he does put himself to the trouble he naturally charges for that as well as the actual work done. It would seem that this might be partially remedied by making a thorough inspection of the buildings once a year and then getting some party to take all the small repairing as one job.

BOOKS AND SUPPLIES.

Good books and supplies are as vital a necessity to a school as good tools and machinery to a shop.

Only a very small part, about six per cent, of all the school money goes for books and supplies. The sum raised last year and put in this year's warrant, $200, gives only $1.38 for each pupil in the schools. This is the average annual expenditure per pupil for the state. Out of this sum it is necessary not only to provide the individual pupils with books and supplies, but also to provide all articles for general use, such as chalk, maps, globes, reference books, etc. If this amount is raised every year, and expended with the utmost economy and discretion, a creditable equipment can be kept up. Obviously it is no extravagant sum. In fact it is eleven cents a pupil less than the average for Cheshire county for the past four years, and sixteen cents less than the Massachusetts average.

ATTENDANCE.

The little progress in their studies made by many children is readily explained by the fact that they are habitually absent or tardy. To some parents almost anything seems more important than school work. Such should never blame the teacher for poor results.

The three schools outside the village labor under especial disadvantages during the winter term. Attendance is generally good in the spring. After the long winter vacation the children are glad enough to go to school even if the roads are muddy. By beginning early in April, a term of thirteen weeks could be held. Commencing again on the first Monday in September, sixteen weeks' work could be accomplished before Christmas. This would give twenty-nine weeks during the most favorable weather. If the appropriation warrants it, a short winter term of three or four weeks might begin after a week's Christmas vacation. The advisability of having this short term would depend on two things: first, its appreciation by the parents, shown by their co-operation in securing good attendance, second, the severity of the winter. This winter's rigor has of course been unprecedented. Too much stress should not be placed on the poor attendance in the small schools under these conditions. Such a winter effects the attendance in all schools, city as well as country.

I have found that considerable misapprehension exists in regard to the truancy laws. Some of the most important provisions may be found following this report.

The names of those who have not been absent or tardy during the entire year truly constitute a "roll of honor." Regular attendance at school indicates faithfulness, ambition and "all-round" reliability on the part of the pupil. It is in itself a strong recommendation.

THE SCHOOL YEAR.

The Keene course of study requires ten years' work before the high school, four years of thirty-three weeks each and six years of thirty-six weeks. Especial reference is made to Keene because most of our pupils who go to any high school go there. The difficulty if not the impossibility of fitting an average child for such a school in nine years of thirty weeks each is apparent. It requires time to do school work just as much as it does to do any other work. Progress in education is necessarily slow. The attempt to get results quickly threatens the thoroughness of the work. It leads to memorizing without understanding, to parrot-like repetition in place of thought.

No pupil should enter a high school until the foundation has been laid. For the great majority who end their school days with the grammar school, it is doubly important that this work be well done. If some parents realized this they would be in less of a hurry to have their children graduate.

On the other hand school life should not be needlessly protracted. The time of a pupil well along in his teens is valuable. "Time is money." It is more. It is opportunity. It is life. If a child can do his work thoroughly without crowding it is better for him to enter a high school at fifteen than at seventeen. Vacations are necessary, but it is discouraging to an ambitious parent to see his children playing about the streets nearly half of the year.

The Troy Village school has thirty-four weeks in the primary and thirty-six weeks in the intermediate, grammar and high. Troy paid in 1902 a school tax of $4.50 on a thousand of valuation against $3.90 for Fitzwilliam.

My predecessor in his last report urged a longer school year. I repeat his recommendation.

STATE AID.

In the year ending March 15, 1903, the town expended for all school purposes $2,665.41. Of this total the state contributed $506.41, nearly one-fifth. The state's share of the supervisor's salary was $148.14. The state literary fund gave us $119.34. The remainder came to us under the provisions of Chapter 77 of the Session Laws of 1899. Under this same law we this year received $222.70.

The law provided that aid should be given to all towns whose "equalized valuation is less than $3,000 for each child of the average attendance in the public schools." In 1899 the valuation of Fitzwilliam divided by the average attendance gave $3,448. In 1902 it gave $3,469. It appears that Fitzwilliam is not entitled under the general provision of the law. In the same section however, is found this clause: "The governor and council may, upon recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction, add to the class of towns specified above in this paragraph such other towns as may seem from their peculiar conditions to need relief from too great a burden of school taxation." Whether this town shall receive the same proportion of aid in the future or none is a matter which really rests entirely within the discretion of the superintendent of public instruction. When the appropriation was reduced to $1,800 a year ago he wrote to the chairman of the Fitzwilliam school board a letter of remonstrance. Within a week another communication has been received in which the superintendent says: "A town that reduces its own appropriation by reason of receiving state aid has no claim for its continuance."

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY B. STEARNS.

Fitzwilliam, N. H., Feb. 24, 1904.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

CHAPTER 93 OF THE PUBLIC STATUTES.

SECTION 10. No child under the age of twelve years shall be employed in any manufacturing establishment. No child under the age of fourteen years shall be employed in any manufacturing establishment, nor in any mechanical, mercantile, or other employment during the time in which the public schools are in session in the district in which he resides.

SECTION 11. No child under the age of sixteen years shall be employed in any manufacturing establishment, or in any mechanical, mercantile, or other employment, during the time in which the public schools are in session in the district in which he resides, without first presenting a statement of his age from his parent or guardian, sworn to before the superintendent of schools, or, if there is no superintendent of schools, before some person authorized by the school board of the district in which child is employed.

And no child under the age of sixteen years shall be employed as aforesaid during the time in which the public schools are in session in the district in which he resides without first presenting a certificate from the superintendent of schools, or, if there is no superintendent of schools, some person authorized by the school board, that such child can read at sight and write legibly simple sentences in the English language. And any superintendent of schools, or person authorized by the school board, who certifies falsely as to matters prescribed by this section shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars for each offense.

SECTION 12. * * * * [This section is in regard to evening schools.]

SECTION 13. If any owner, agent, superintendent, or overseer of a manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment, or any other person shall employ any child in violation of the provisions of either of the three preceding sections, he shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars for each offense, for the use of the district.

SECTION 14. Every person having the custody and control of a child between the ages of eight and fourteen years, or of a child under the age of sixteen years, who cannot read at sight and write legibly simple sentences in the English language, residing in a school district in which a public school is annually taught, shall cause such child to attend the public school all the time such school is in session, unless the child shall be excused by the school board of the district because his physical or mental condition is such as to prevent his attendance at school for the period required. * * Any person who does not comply with the requirements of this section shall be fined ten dollars for the first offense and twenty dollars for every subsequent offense for the use of the district.

REPORT OF
FITZWILLIAM BOARD OF HEALTH.

During the past year three cases of diphtheria, one of scarlet fever and several cases of measles have come to our notice; also two cases of typhoid fever.

In these cases the houses have been placarded and the families have been quarantined when necessary, and all precautions taken to prevent the spread of these diseases. In some cases the fumigating has been left to the care of the families, while in others it has been done by the board themselves.

Several samples of water have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. In some cases it was found to be all right, but in most cases the water was polluted and unfit for use. Of course none but suspected water has been sent, and this accounts for the large per cent of samples which were bad.

Several complaints have been made in regard to the manner in which some sink water was disposed of, and we find that a good many are either careless or indifferent and allow their sink-drains to become a menace to themselves as well as to others. This could easily be remedied if all would take a little pains and provide proper drainage.

ARTHUR T. BYAM,
GEO. S. EMERSON,
Board of Health.

FIREWARD'S REPORT.

The fire department were called to five fires in the past year.

April 28, an alarm was given to a fire at the mill of R. L. Angier.

May 22, an alarm was given for a forest fire on the Barton Grant place.

May 23, an alarm was given for a forest fire starting near or on the Horatio Fairbank's place.

May 26, an alarm was given for a forest fire on the land of The Webb Granite & Construction Co.

December 23, an alarm was given for a fire in the house occupied by William Naramore; damage slight.

The apparatus of the fire department is as follows: one Hunneman engine, one hose cart, four pieces suction hose, four hundred feet poor hose, four hundred feet of good hose, three axes, two lanterns, one wrench, six fire buckets, one fire hook, one ladder, one bell from old engine, sixteen steel hoes, six steel shovels, one wooden shovel, one extra plunger, three fire extinguishers.

Number of books added to the library during the year, 83.

Our library now contains 5,226 volumes, exclusive of the "Allen library."

Number of books lost during the year, none.

Number of books taken from the library during the year, 3,169.

The largest circulation for any week, 99.

The average circulation per week, 61.

Agreeably to the terms of the will of the late John J. Allen, Jr., the town of Fitzwilliam is now in full possession and enjoyment of his valuable library, including all his pictures, engravings, and works of art. We find our present library room is inadequate for the proper storage and display of these valuable treasures of learning and art.

Our town is in great need of a suitable and commodious building in which to store its valuable library, in which there should be a large hall in which to display its pictures, engravings, works of art and curios, now on hand, and which are rapidly accumulating from year to year.

Another strong argument in favor of a separate building in which our library, its pictures, engravings, and works of art, should be stored is proper protection and security, in case of fire.

The present value of the library is estimated at over $8,000, and we trust that the day is not far distant when some way may be devised whereby we can have a building in which to store and display the educational treasures, somewhere equal in design and proportion to the library buildings of Marlboro, Winchester, Rindge, Jaffrey and numerous other towns in this state.

Our library is rapidly increasing, and has already become a great factor in the education, culture and enjoyment of all our citizens who avail themselves of its privileges.

The town of Fitzwilliam has been informed of the following bequest of Albert M. Knight, late of Waltham, Massachusetts, which (when available) will make another large and valuable addition to our library.

Item fourth of his last will and testament is as follows:

"Upon the decease of my sister, Sophia Knight, I give and bequeath all my books to the Public Library in the town of Fitzwilliam, in the state of New Hampshire, in memory of my grandfather, Jonas Knight, an early settler of that town."

We are informed that it is not as large as the Allen library, but that it is a very choice and valuable collection of scientific, historical and miscellaneous books.

The library should be sustained as a public educator with functions like those of our public schools. It is to improve and elevate tastes, capacities and moral and mental qualities, and to minister innocent delight to the young, and to wearied toilers of our country.

The great question of the due proportion of fiction and juveniles necessary to constitute a popular library, educational in its tone and effect, has from the beginning given much thought and anxiety to the librarian and supervisors. When a taste for books has once been formed by the lighter publication and a moderate amount of the best fiction, then the older and more settled works in biography, in history, and in the graver departments of knowledge, will be demanded.

It is evident that a large proportion of the intellectual as well as as imaginative power of the time is finding its vent in fiction, magazines and newspapers.

This power has developed itself with increased energy year by year.

The production and use of solid books such as are contained in the library of the late John J. Allen, Jr., are slowly and gradually moving forward with the improvement of classical learning, historical investigation and scientific research, and in our opinion the purchase of works of fiction should be very small and carefully selected in any well regulated library.

We would again call the attention of the citizens of the town to the provisions of Chapter 8 of the Public Statutes, and Chapter 118 of the laws of 1895, in relation to the establishment and maintenance of free public libraries.

Our library is in much need of an up to date catalogue which we have never had, and we trust the town at its annual meeting will vote to raise and appropriate the sum of $150 for this important and worthy object. We gratefully acknowledge the receipt of various reports and public documents from the state and general government during the past year.
